JOHN JOHNSON MAKES HIS EXIT FROM THIS VALE OF TEARS.

He Met Death With an Indifference Remarkable and Betrayed no Fear. The Story of His Execution and His Crime.

Mt. Sterling, Ky., August 16.—Beneath the rays of a broiling sun and in the presence of fully 8,000 people, John Johnson, the negro murderer of Policeman Charles Evans, paid the penalty of his crime an hour before noon today. Johnson spent a good night, sleeping well. At 6 o'clock he expressed a desire for fruit, calling for four apples, two bananas and a quart of grapes, which he ate with apparent relish. At 7:30 o'clock he stated that he was ready for breakfast. Jailer Chenault set before him half a chicken, two slices of ham, a good sized piece of steak, three soft boiled eggs, two pieces of toast, four biscuits, two slices of light bread, a cup of coffee, a glass of milk, half a dozen pears, two oranges, two bananas and a basket of grapes, every morsel of which he ate.

Rev. Alexander Vixian, of the Colored Baptist church, came to give him spiritual advice. He sang and prayed until 10 o'clock, when he called for a plate of ice cream and a pound of cake, which he ate with as much relish as if he had not partaken of a morsel.

At 10:12 the death warrant was read by Sheriff Sledd. Johnson received it with a smile and said: "That don't amount to anything. It's all foolishness. I'm ready to go and don't need to hear any more of the law. It's no good."

A pair of handcuffs were then placed about his wrists, and at 10:30, accompanied by Sheriff Sledd and Deputy Jones and Rev. Vixian, he entered the wagon and was driven to the scaffold, half a mile away. A guard of 25 men, armed with Winchesters, followed the wagon.

At 10:55 Johnson mounted the steps of the scaffold with a steady gait and stood for a moment gazing upon the crowd about him, occasionally bowing in recognition of the salute of some acquaintances.

Sheriff Sledd asked him if he had anything to say, to which he replied:

"Brother Vivian will do all the talking for this party."

The colored minister then made a short address, in which he said that "Johnny" had repented and that he felt that he had been forgiven of his sine and was ready to meet his fate, hoping to meet all of his friends, and enemies as well, in a better and happier land. Two hymns were then sung and, after a prayer by the minister, Johnson stepped upon the trap without a tremor and said to Deputy Jones: "It's getting mighty hot. See how I am sweating. Let us get through with this; I am ready."

The straps were quickly buckled about his wrists and ankles, the noose adjusted, with the knot behind the left ear, and the black cap drawn. Deputy Jones said "Goodby," Sheriff Sledd said "God have mercy on your soul," to which Johnson replied "Amen," and at 11:17 o'clock Deputy Jas. F. Stockdale pulled the lever.

Johnson shot through the opening as straight as an arrow. The rope was too long and his feet hit the sod and sent the body upward again. A second later it was noticed it was motionless, with the toes resting on the sod. Half a dozen convulsive jerks of the knees and shrugs of the shoulders and the body settled for the last time. Johnson was not dead. Though he was not breathing his heart was still beating and his pulse registered 102. Twenty-five minutes had elapsed when County Physician Pierce pronounced him dead. Coroner Eastin cut him down and an examination by half a dozen physicians proved he had died of strangulation, his neck having remained unbroken.

The crime for which Johnson suffered death was the brutal murder of Policeman Charles Evans on the night of June 15. Evans, together with Officer Horace Lane, attempted to arrest Johnson, when the negro drew his pistol and fired, the first shot striking Lane's star, the second striking Evans in the stomach, from the effect of which wound he died the following day.

Judge Cooper called a special term of court and Johnson was given a speedy, though fair and impartial trial, which resulted in his conviction and the imposing of the death penalty.

Johnson was a desperate negro and had been guilty of many crimes, having just returned from the penitentiary four days previous to the murder of Evans. This is Montgomery county's first legal hanging since 1864.

"It is the best patent medicine in the world" is what Mr. E. M. Hartman, of Marquam, Oregon, says of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. "What leads me to make this assertion is from the fact that dysentery in its worst form was prevalent around here last summer and it never took over two or three doses of that remedy to effect a complete cure." For sale by John M. Rose.

How many will sign this pledge? "I will try to be kind to all harmless living creatures, and try to protect them from cruel usage." We hear much justly said in defense of human rights, but how seldom do we hear a word spoken in behalf of the faithful ox or horse that heave with many a weary step and many a groan under heavy burdens.

Rumor has it that forty Winchesters have been shipped into Morgan county to defend illicit distilleries. The shiners are said to have a regular organization and the assault made by the Terrell brothers on Deputy Marshal Green Lacy last Sunday tends to corroborate the rumor.

HE WANTED A WIFE

AND USED THE NEWSPAPERS TO AID HIM IN HIS QUEST FOR BLISS.

He Receives a Proposition From a Young Lady Who Thinks She Can Fill the Bill—She Weighs 215 Pounds and Can Plow.

Some weeks ago J. D. Harmon, of Lancaster, advertised for a wife. He wanted a woman of fine points and good qualities and was by no means modest in his requirements. "In fact," says the Danville Advocate, "he was so fastidious in enumerating the virtues and beauties of the article desired that in looking like folly to expect a satisfactory subject. He has, however, received numerous applications for more particulars from lonely females willing to commit matrimony. Among them was the following epistle, which was received by the Record from Elizabeth L. Blevins, of Nicholasville, Ky.:

"Editor Record—I am astonished at J. D. Harmon's manner of procuring a wife. I am 24 years old, weigh 215 pounds, have a good education, can wash, cook, plow, etc., but I don't know how to be devoted to him unless he will come to see me. I am willing to get up at five o'clock, if we go to bed early. I should like to have a description of Mr. Harmon, and also an inventory of his property. Please let me know what springs he attends in the summer, what kind of a house he lives in and what kind of carriage he has. He must be a Republican and work for that party. Is he smart? Tell him to send me his photograph or come to see me."

"Now, this sounds like business. There is nothing to indicate whether the said Elizabeth is maid or widow, but it is easy to conclude that she has been there before. She's business from the word go. Mr. Harmon, too, is called upon to qualify before he is given a mortgage that only death or the divorce courts can dissolve. I imagine that Mr. Harmon, after reading this note, prepared to move 75 or 100 miles further away from Nicholasville. It would keep a man in a restless state all the time to live within twenty miles of Elizabeth. 'Twenty-four years old, weighs two hundred and fifteen pounds and can plow.' Gee-whillikins!"

Dr. E. O. Guerrant, the noted Presbyterian minister, is holding a revival on Quicksand creek, in Breathitt county. The services are held in a large tent, and the crowds are very large. Dr. Guerrant has traveled all over Eastern Kentucky as an evangelist, and has converted hundreds of the mountaineers.

The Lay of the Wraith.

I. N. Phipps, of Mt. Sterling, and formerly of Morgan county, is the author of a volume of poems just published by John P. Morton & Co., of Louisville, Ky. "The Lay of the Wraith" is the title given this beautiful version of an Indian legend. It is written in much the same style of Longfellow's Indian legends, and it reminds one of "The Song of Hiawatha," both in its measure of verse and sentiment. There are seventy-one of the shorter poems which the author calls "Simple Songs and Echoes of the Heart." Some of them are very touching and one can easily read between the lines sketches of the author's life as can be seen from reading the following:

"Oh! bitter the day and cold,
Oh! stormy the night and long,
When my lost love, my Leoline,
Went down in the billows strong."

"Oh! why should thy waves return
To thy bosom again, O sea!
When my lost love, my Leoline,
Can never come back to me?"
This book should find a welcome place in every home.

The debate between Elder Howard, of the Church of God, and Elder Kendrick, of the Christian church of Danville, held at Morehead not long since, was declared off by the moderators of the Church of God. Both sides claim a victory and, as usual, the breach instead of being closed is widened more and more.

The Winchester Democrat says that "a Mt. Sterling girl's quarrel with another girl of that city has developed the fact that she was engaged to five different fellows." Well, what if she was? Is the Democrat jealous because Winchester girls are not so popular? Maybe the Mt. Sterling girls will "divy up" sweethearts with the lonesome and neglected lassies of their neighboring city. We'll wager our last "jit," however, that a Mt. Sterling girl will never get left.

Some folks claim that on account of the many cider mills in operation in Kentucky this year that the bees will make honey from it, which will sour, and cause them to starve to death in consequence. We are of the opinion, however, that by the time the average Kentuckian has taken on a few "loads of apples" that there will be precious little cider left for the bees. If they think to get on a pay-day "jag" from the cider that is left they will be the most sadly sold lot of insects that ever pinned their faith to a Kentuckian's capacity.

Congressman Hunter, of Bowling Green, has a large amount of that commodity usually termed "gall." He wrote to Governor Holcomb, (Populist) of Nebraska, asking him to raise a fund in his state to help carry Kentucky Republican this fall. The governor answered, "Nay, nay, Pauline; I will never assist in placing Kentucky in the power of such an organization as the Republican party." Which goes to show that the governor is a sensible old gentleman and leads us to conclude that there are men in the Populist party who have brains as well as whiskers.

WILL BE LYNCHED.

CHARGED WITH OUTRAGING HIS 12-YEAR OLD DAUGHTER.

John Allen is the Name of the Blend and He, Together With John Brandy, Broke Jail—Brandy Caught Near Morehead.

John Bandy, charged with forging an order on a Martinsburg merchant, and John Allen, who is charged with outraging his twelve-year-old daughter, broke jail at Martinsburg, the county seat of Elliott county, eighteen miles distant from Morehead, Thursday night. Town Marshal L. A. Day arrested Bandy four miles below Morehead Saturday. Allen is still at large, but if caught and returned to Martinsburg he will surely be lynched, as the charges against him have just become known. Allen is forty-seven years old, and has been married four times. The girl is a daughter of his first wife.

One night when Mr. Isaac Rees was staying with me, says M. F. Hatch, a prominent merchant of Quartermaster, Washington, I heard him groaning. On going to his room I found him suffering from cramp colic. He was in such agony I feared he would die. I hastily gave him a dose of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. He was soon relieved and the first words he uttered were, "what was that stuff you gave me?" I informed him. A few days ago we were talking about his attack and he said he was never without that remedy now. I have used it in my family for several years. I know its worth and do not hesitate to recommend it to my friends and customers. For sale by John M. Rose.

Some few days ago Jesse Simpson shot Carlo Hoskins, near the Clay county line, in Laurel, and made his escape through the mountains to his step-father's, Bill Stewart, about two miles from London. Since that time most of the officers have been searching the hills for him, but have failed to find him.

The Teachers' Institute of Wolfe county will be held at Hazel Green beginning August 20, 1895, and continuing five days. The instructor will be Prof. John C. Willis, of Mitchell, Ind. All the teachers of the county and those holding a certificate to teach are required by the law to attend. Thursday is "Trustee Day" and Thursday afternoon will be devoted to the duties and work of the trustees, and all the trustees of the county are requested to be present. Let every teacher come with some special preparation on some branch of the work. Prof. Willis will deliver a lecture on Tuesday night. Admission 10¢.

ATTEMPTED OUTRAGE

BY A NEGRO BRUTE ON MRS. MARY HUDSON, NEAR LEXINGTON.

While Walking Along the Railroad Track She is Seized From Behind and Choked Into Insensibility. The Brute Arrested.

Mrs. Mary Hudson, a widow, aged 50 years, was assaulted by a unknown negro near her home, four miles from Lexington, about 8:30 o'clock, Wednesday morning. She was walking along the Southern railway track, intending to call upon a married daughter, who lives about a quarter of a mile away, when a negro approached from behind and choked her to insensibility. Her daughter heard her screams for help and gave the alarm, whereupon the negro fled. When the daughter reached Mrs. Hudson she was unconscious. Word was sent to Lexington and the victim gave the best description of the negro she could, but it was not accurate.

Later she identified James Mitchell Smith as the negro who assaulted her and he was placed in the Lexington jail to await the action of the grand jury. A special guard has been appointed to protect him from mob violence.

Food For Reflection.

Nothing pays less than wearing a long face.

No man loves God who does not believe His word.

The devil hates the man who makes him hate himself.

Truth can be put in the grave, but it cannot be kept there.

We always lose when we engage in things that cause us to forget God.

When Christ is preached, hypocrites begin to stay away from church.

We don't have to travel far to find out that all hogs don't have four feet.

The devil has a pretty sure thing on the man who loves money and hates work.

There is no sin so small, that to keep it will not make us part company with Christ.

There is no promise in the Bible for the man who intends to be a Christian tomorrow.

The probabilities are, that when they started for the wedding, the foolish virgins were at the head of the procession.—Ram's Horn.

Some people are like phosphorated hydrogen gas, exploding at the slightest puff; others are like icicles, you must melt them to warm them. Some one says, "There are people in a revival like sheet-iron stoves. All that is required to make them red hot is a shaving and a match, but they cool as quickly as they heat." Others are like baseburners; the anthracite kindles slowly, but when the coals glow they hold the fire and diffuse warmth to all around.

To Lay Off a Half Mile Track.

For a half-mile track draw two parallel lines 600 feet long and 452 feet and five inches apart. Half way between the extreme ends of the two parallel lines drive a stake. Then loop a wire around the stake long enough to reach it, either side. Then make a true curve with the wire, putting down a stake as often as a fence post is needed. When this operation is finished at both ends of the 600 foot parallel lines, the track is laid out. The inside fence will rest exactly on the line drawn from the force. The turns should be thrown up an inch to the foot. The stretches may be anywhere from 35 to 65 feet wide.

DON'T STOP TOBACCO

IT'S INJURIOUS TO STOP SUDDENLY and don't be imposed upon by buying a remedy that requires you to do so. It is nothing more than a substitute. In the sudden stoppage of tobacco you must have some stimulant, and in most all cases, the effect of the stimulant, be it opium, morphine, or other opiates, leaves a far worse habit contracted. Ask your druggist about BACO-CURO. It is purely vegetable. You do not have to stop using tobacco with BACO-CURO. IT WILL NOTIFY YOU WHEN TO STOP and your desire for tobacco will cease. Your system will be as free from nicotine as the day before you took your first chew of smoke. An iron-clad written guarantee to absolutely cure the tobacco habit in all its forms, or money refunded. Price $1.00 per box or 3 boxes (30 days treatment and guaranteed cure), $2.50. For sale by all druggists or will be sent by mail upon receipt of price. SEND SIX TWO CENT STAMPS FOR SAMPLE BOX. Dear Sirs—I have been a tobacco fiend for many years, and during the past two years have smoked fifteen to twenty cigars regularly every day. My whole nervous system became affected, until my physician told me I must give up the use of tobacco for the time being, at least. I tried the so-called "Keeley Cure," "No-To-Bac," and various other remedies, but without success, until I accidentally learned of your "Baco-Curo." Three weeks ago today I commenced using your preparation, and today I consider myself completely cured; I am in perfect health, and the horrible craving for tobacco, which every inveterate smoker fully appreciates, has completely left me. I consider your "Baco-Curo" simply wonderful, and can fully recommend it. Yours very truly, C. W. HORNICK.

Kentucky has had forty-eight murders since July 1, an average of about one a day.

The Democrat who allows himself to be led away from his party by the flimsy arguments of Republican "chin-peddlers" ought to be bored for the simples.

Jim Corbett has married the girl that caused the trouble. Now if his divorced wife will marry "Fitz," Jim won't have a ghost of a chance in the fight at Dallas.

There is plenty of time yet for speculation on the United States senatorial nomination. Forty-four representatives and eight senators are yet to be nominated.

Hon. J. C. Lykins is taking things easy since his nomination for representative. Well may he, as Mr. Seitz has no more show for election than the proverbial snowball in hades.

Everyone who has the interest of their town and section at heart should boom the fair. It is held expressly for the mountain people, the prizes and purses being distributed among them exclusively, and all should lend a helping hand in making it a success.

Louisville is making great preparations for the G. A. R. meeting to be held in that city in September. This will be the first time the organization has met south of the "Mason and Dixon line," but we are sure that after they have partaken of Kentucky hospitality, they will come again.

Anyone who sells extract of cinnamon and the like for intoxicants is subject to indictment just the same as if they had sold whiskey. Even those who have a license to sell all kinds of liquors cannot sell to an inebriate without a violation of the law. People interested should take note of this.

The Republicans of the Seventeenth district, composed of the counties of Rockcastle, Knox, Bell, Jackson and one-half of Whitley and Laurel counties, will on Monday nominate a candidate for state senator. J. D. Jarvis, it is thought, will be the man. As this district is largely Republican, his nomination will be equivalent to an election.

The Mountains and the Blue Grass.

It hasn't been so very long ago since our blue grass cousins held the mountain counties as a section where crime stalked in all its hideous forms and where lawlessness was the rule rather than the exception. While it is true that some of the mountain counties merited the unenviable notoriety they had acquired by reason of feudal warfare and a disregard for human life, still there were conditions existing in the mountains then that the blue grass country cannot plead in extenuation for the lawless and bloody deeds committed within her borders every day.

There was a time, and recently, too, when schoolhouses and churches, in some of the mountain counties, were institutions unknown. There were none of the refined, cultured and elevating influences which surround those favored ones of the blue grass. Law and order, under such conditions, could scarcely be expected.

But a change has come and a wave of reform has swept over the mountain counties of Eastern Kentucky. School houses dot its hills and valleys and church spires pierce its azure skies, while the newspaper flourishes in every community and is a welcome visitor into almost every home. The majesty of the law is respected and upheld and evil-deeds are made to be tolerated, and consequently there are few of this class now to be found in the mountains.

But while the mountains have progressed our blue grass neighbors have retrograded, and each day brings tidings of some atrocious crime committed within their borders. Murder has become so common that it hardly attracts attention, and convictions are comparatively few. Since July 1, forty-eight men have met tragic deaths at the hands of their fellow man, and seven-eighths of these crimes have been committed in the cultured and highly enlightened blue grass country. Where is the boasted civilization, that the conditions are such that one man can slay another, and if possessed of money or high family connection, he can laugh at the law and go scott free, to be a constant menace to the lives of law-abiding citizens?

Well may Kentucky be called the "Dark and Bloody Ground." Her soil is saturated with the blood of the victims of the Kentuckian's deadly and ever ready pistol and the widows and orphans of the murdered dead cry out to heaven for vengeance.

The rugged East Kentucky mountaineer has set an example that the blue grass colonel could well profit by.

Uphold the majesty of the law. If a man commit a capital crime, impose the death penalty, whether he be rich or poor. A few yards of rope legally and judiciously used would have a salutary effect.

The blue grass country has a rare opportunity to use some of her surplus hemp. Will she do it? Time will show.

O. H. Pollard, a McCreary man, has been nominated by the Democrats of Breathitt, Lee and Magoffin to represent them in the next general assembly. Mr. Pollard is a most excellent gentleman and is editor of the Beattyville Enterprise. He defeated Charley Sublett, of Salyersville, well known in this section. The district is dangerously close and Mason Cope, a Republican, was elected last time over J. J. C. Bach, Democrat. Mr. Pollard is extremely popular in his section and Lee county may now be safely counted Democratic.

That circuit judge whom everybody thought to be dead, turned out to only be "dead drunk." He ought to be relieved of the duties of his high office and in his stead let a man turn the wheels of justice who is not only capable, but who is moral as well, and who has no "monkey business" about him.

The latest candidate on the Republican ticket for the legislature from Bath and Rowan is Samuel McKee Bradley, of the firm of Bradley Brothers, of Morehead. Mr. Bradley is 26 years old, a man of commanding appearance and a first-class business man. He is a brother of ex-County Superintendent Hiram Bradley and related to Col. W. O. Bradley, Republican candidate for governor. Mr. Bradley has never been a candidate for any office before, but has been actively engaged in local politics. He is one of the proprietors of the Morehead Advance.

The first guns of the great Hardin-Bradley debate were fired at Louisville Monday night. Fully 5,000 people crowded the Auditorium to hear the claims for political preferment of each candidate. General Hardin made a masterly address, reviewing the illustrious and patriotic record of his party for the last half century, and showing up the weak spots in the unenviable record of the Republicans, tearing into shreds and tatters their presumptuous claims to honesty and economy in the administration of state and national affairs. Mr. Bradley also made a good address, in which he juggled with the "Queen's English" and cunningly sought to clothe the Republican skeleton in a robe of virtue and purity. But he can't fool the voters. The debate was free from personalities.

The tenth annual session of the Hazel Green Academy begins on September 2. The outlook is brighter than ever before and possible twenty boarders from half a dozen counties will matriculate on the first day. No better school can be found east of Lexington and the people of this and adjoining counties should give it a most liberal patronage.

MINISTERS OF THE GOSPEL ENDORSE

ELECTROPOISE.

Rev. John I. Rogers, Danville, Ky. It is a mystery to me, almost a miracle. Rev. Z. Meek, Catlettsburg, Ky. I have used the Electropoise for five years and find it invaluable as a curative agent, especially in cases of feeble women and delicate children. Rev. Robert Barrett, Louisville Baptist Seminary. Electropoise cured after all other remedies failed. Rev. W. W. Bruce, Hustonville, Ky. Electropoise cured opium habit. Rev. Geo. Meane, Covington, Ky. In one night the Electropoise relieved brain congestion and vertigo.

We could fill this paper with similar reports, but think this sufficient to interest you in sending for book on the subject of health. Electropoise rented four months for $10.00.

THE HERALD.

Try THE HERALD for one year.
 Let us Henry and wife, of Caney, live in town this week.

W. O. Mize went to Mt. Sterling last Friday, and returned this week.

Elder J. A. Howard is still sick with typhoid fever at his home near Ezel.

Miss Ingels will begin a class in music at the Academy the first week in September.

Rev. J. T. Pieratt is still dangerously ill. We hope soon to chronicle his recovery.

The farmers on Lacy creek are thrashing wheat this week. They report a fair crop.

The streets of our town are not in good repair. The authorities should see to it at once.

Boys don't stop and gaze at people, no matter what they are doing. It shows bad breeding.

Wanted, a woman to do cooking, washing and ironing; good home, best wages. Apply at this office.

Rev. Ira Hicks, the weather prophet, says we may look for cooler weather about the 25th to the 28th.

Prof. Cord left Monday for Stanford to attend the regular state meeting of the Christian church.

Four and a half and $4.75 are being offered for stock hogs at Lexington, and $4.00 for fat hogs, October delivery.

Mr. J. R. Fernholt came all the way from Cincinnati to see his best girl, who, by the way, is one of our most beautiful and accomplished young ladies.

J. T. Day left on Sunday last for Jackson. His buggy was "derailed" on Frozen, making a considerable wreck. Jesse picked himself up out of a ditch.

Next Monday the Wolfe county Teachers' Institute convenes in our town and our people should see that the teachers and instructors have a pleasant time.

Miss Maggie Kash, of this place, who has been visiting her sister, Mrs. Floyd Day, of Jackson, returned home Saturday. She reports a delightful trip.

Miss Cora McGuire, who has been visiting at Beattyville, St. Helena and other places for two months past, is now at home. She reports a most enjoyable visit.

Uncle Milton Gibbs, of Caney, a gay widower of seventy-nine winters, called on us yesterday. He has been married six times and is still in the ring, so the boys say.

John Brewer had the misfortune to lose his house by fire a few days ago. Nothing of any consequence was saved. No insurance. Now is the time his friends should remember him.

"Old black Noah" has been engaged to take charge of the training stables and will begin his duties in that capacity next week. Another from Mt. Sterling will also be here today.

Miss Laura Rawlings left today for her home in Covington, where she will spend a short vacation. She was accompanied by her little friend, Pearl Day, who will go to Cincinnati to have her eyes treated. Miss Laura will visit other places while away, but will return promptly and resume her business as milliner and dressmaker.

The infant of David Rose and wife is very low.

Young man, are you contemplating going to college this year? If so, give the Hazel Green Academy a call and see what it offers you.

Impure blood is the cause of boils, pimples and other eruptions. Hood's Sarsaparilla purifies the blood, and cures these troubles.

Dr. Tipton, who lives up on Red river, about five miles east of here, had two of his ribs broken Wednesday by his horse falling on him. Dr. Kash, of this city, attended him.

The Kentucky fairs without an exception are a success financially and otherwise. If proper interest is taken, our own fair will not prove an exception. Remember the date, October 2, 3 and 4.

Messrs. Cecil and McGuire, two excellent young men from Cedar Bluff, Va., are visiting friends in and about Hazel Green. We hope their stay in our midst will be a most pleasant one.

J. C. Murphy has sold his farm on the Murphy fork of Grassy to Buchanan Rose, of Lee City, for $3,000, $1,000 to be paid in stock. Mr. Murphy goes today to Illinois, where he will probably make his future home.

Jo Les Henry and Hannibal Cooper, of West Liberty and Sellersville respectively, were in our midst the first of the week. Mr. Cooper is in the telephone business, and is now working up a line between Mt. Sterling and Ezel.

On last Sunday Elders W. L. Lacy and A. B. Stamper and others, conducted services at Old Grassy church. A large crowd was present and took great interest in Brother Lacy's sermon, before noon, after which they served dinner on the ground.

Knowing ones say that this winter will be a hard one on bees. Their cells will be filled from the pomaces from the numerous distilleries, which will sour during the fall, leaving them nothing to eat in the winter months. Bee raisers should take warning and prepare for the coming bee famine.

Mrs. J. M. Pieratt, of Ezel, Ky., Mrs. Eveline O'Hara, Paris, Illinois, and Mrs. T. E. Frazier and daughter, Miss Grace, of Charleston, Illinois, are visiting Judge G. B. Swango, at his residence in South Frankfort. The three ladies first named are sisters of Judge Swango.—Frankfort Capital.

Quite a commotion was raised at a Baptist association in this community last Lord's day. One brother said that God had saved him from his sins, and had done so against his will. "It was against my will then," said he, "is against it now, and always will be."  He did not conclude his experience.

The school in District No. 82, at Powell schoolhouse, is progressing nicely, with R. A. Hord as teacher. Mr. Hord is from Hazel Green. He is an accomplished young gentleman, 18 years of age, and we predict he will make us an excellent teacher. We wish him success.—Winchester Democrat.

Thos. D. Jones, of Mt. Sterling, arrived in our city last Sunday night. His little son Kelley, who is with his mother at J. T. Days, drank some ammonia last Saturday and for a while it was thought it would prove fatal. By the time Mr. Jones arrived, however, his little son had recovered through treatment of Dr. Taulbee, and was at himself. Mr. and Mrs. Jones, with their family, left today for their home in the suburbs of Mt. Sterling.

The Lexington and Eastern railroad company have begun to grade a branch road from Lumber Point, in Lee county, to the Sturgeon coal fields, six miles below Beattyville. The road will be on the Proctor side of the Kentucky river and will be about twelve miles long. This will be a paying move for the Lee county people, but will operate heavily against the Winchester and Beattyville road, which connects Beattyville to the Lexington and Eastern at W.

Intimidation and perjury are the main means of defense of the lawless mountaineer. He makes one class afraid to tell, and bribes another class to tell what they do not know. Indictments have recently been made for perjury, and a few convictions would lessen the number of Ananias materially. At the late trials of Fields and Adkins at Barbourville, one woman, it is said, who was a very important witness for the commonwealth, feigned illness and declared her physical inability to make the trip. It is believed here by the representative men that sufficient evidence can be gotten now to bring almost every guilty man to justice. If this is done, it will be the first feud in Kentucky in which the participants have all been punished. Such a course would do more to prevent a recurrence of these feuds than all the state militiamen that have been sent to enforce the law have accomplished. It is time that the law was vindicated in some of

When congress a few years since agreed to refund to the states the amount of the income tax collected by the general government, the amount due Kentucky was $800,000, and a third less to the state of Tennessee. The governor of that state appointed a commissioner to go to Washington and collect the $400,000. This he did and received for his services $7,500. Governor Brown refused to appoint a commissioner, wrote to the treasury department, collected $300,000 for his state at a cost of only two cents postage. —Harrodsburg Democrat.

EN. MAXEY DEAD.

DISTINGUISHED CONFEDERATE SOLDIER AND TEXAS SENATOR.

Was Born in Kentucky, and His Career Embraced a Graduation From West Point and Service in Mexico.

Gen. S. B. Maxey died at 12:20 o'clock Friday at Eureka Springs, Ark., of a complication of diseases incident to old age. He was buried in Paris, Texas, Sunday.

He was born in Todd county, Ky., March 31, 1825; graduated at West Point with General Grant, served in the Mexican war under General Scott and was at the siege of Vera Cruz, the battle of Churubusco and the storming of Chapultepec. He came to Texas in 1853; was state's attorney of the Eighth Judicial district from 1858 to 1860, when he was elected to the state senate, which position he resigned and raised the Ninth Texas Infantry, Confederate volunteers. He was shortly made a brigadier general and later major general, and distinguished himself on many battlefields.

After the war he resumed the practice of law, and had many narrow escapes from the bastilles because of his boldness in defense of the rights of the people. In 1875 he was elected to the United States senate over the Hon. John H. Reagan and ex-Governor Throckmorton and was re-elected in 1877 over the same opposition. He was defeated for a third term in 1887 because he would not yield to the popular clamor against railroad and other corporations, since which time he has lived in retirement.

No man in Texas was more highly esteemed and none will be more sincerely mourned.

Themes For Thinkers.

God is so near that he can hear a penitent sinner's heart beat.

Whoever believes like a Christian will be sure to live like one.

Keep your Bible open and you will not find the door of heaven shut.

The Christian who will not stoop to take up his cross will find it heavy.

There is no such thing as being right with God while we are wrong with men.

Whenever a doubt gets into a Christian's heart the bank of heaven closes.

We cannot trust our feelings for an hour, but we can rely on God's word forever.

Sin can banish us from God's presence, but it can never separate us from His love.

The man who wants to work for God shouldn't ask what his pay is to be before he begins.

The righteousness that takes people to heaven is not the kind that goes around bragging on itself.

Some people lose their souls because they are foolish enough to believe that money can buy anything.

Many a man goes to the pit for good because he digs a pit for somebody else, and then falls into it himself.

There are men who have a long crowd, who do business with a short yardstick.—Selected.

The corn crop of the United States this year is placed by the department of agriculture at 82,000,000 acres, or 107.8 per cent, as compared with that of 1894, and the largest average ever reached in this country. Private advices say that the estimate is too low and that 125 per cent. would be nearer the mark. The condition is placed at 93.8 per cent, the best ever reported in July.

Lively Times in Harlan.

Away up on the headquarters of Straight creek, in Harlan county, some of the very finest and largest poplar trees in all Eastern Kentucky grow. On this creek also a very turbulent, long-haired lot of mountaineers have grown up in almost as great profusion as the magnificent trees that cover the hills. Having very little else to do, the natives sometimes fall out and fight over boundary lines and title deeds. Just now the Straight-creekers are amusing themselves with a skirmish over the possession of a tract of timber land. So far only three or four men have been shot in the frequent set-toes which have occurred among the various contestants for the land. Wiley Brock held the misfortune to get a Winchester ball through his neck, and he will very likely die. In another skirmish John Helton and Leonard Caldwell each received a bullet in the arm, which has disabled them for good. Several other claimants have been injured while pressing their claims with too great vigor. It seems that old Mr. Helton sold the tract of land to a Mr. Saylor, but when the deed was presented to him for his signature he refused to sign it, and there has been trouble ever since. The Saylor's claim it and have sold the timber to the Asher Lumber Company. Helton and his son swear to exterminate the Saylor's and their relatives to boot if they persist in claiming the land, and the chances for lively times are very good in consequence.

COUNTRESS OF WARWICK.

Mistress of the Finest Castle in England and a Socialist.

The rich and beautiful countess of Warwick, mistress of the finest castle in England, and a prime factor in the smart set, is a socialist. In an article in the Pall Mall Magazine she writes: "Is the industrial theory of Henry George inevitably what you professors of the moral sciences disclose? Sweating dens for London managers or Manhattan for our cottagers? Poor or starve is a logical result. Is it possible that the future of our country house life involves our adaptation of game farming in order to pasture the millionaires of America or the stock exchange?" Not long ago the countess entertained some four hundred guests at a ball at Warwick castle. The guests were attired in the costumes of the period of Louis XV. and XVI., and the stately reception rooms of the castle had been most luxuriously decorated in the style of the same period. Not a detail was lacking in the completeness of the illusion, even the lighting being carried out by wax candles and electric light adapted to the shapes of imitation candles, while the servants were all in appropriate dress. The cedar drawing-room was the ballroom of the occasion, and the music was rendered by the White Viennese band, also in costume. Supper was laid in the great banquet hall, where the guests were summoned by a blare of trumpets. Programmes and menu cards were printed on Louis Quinze covers, bearing a miniature picture of Warwick castle. The design on the invitation cards was a view of Warwick castle. The countess of Warwick appeared as Marie Antoinette, and the count of Warwick wore the dress of a field-marshal of the day. All the chief personages of the period seemed to have risen out of the past, so vividly were they represented by the various distinguished guests. The countess was indeed well worthy of the one castle in England which was never taken by any foe in days gone by.

"Bodily exercise profiteth but little," but that little is needed, as a light desert aids the digestion of solid foods, and a morsel of salt seasons diet and conserves energy.—Exchange.

He who lives to eat does not live long.

Kentucky Democratic State Platform.

FIRST.—The Democracy of Kentucky in convention assembled congratulate the country upon the repeal of the McKinley tariff law, and upon the evidences we have on every hand of returning prosperity, under the operations of reduced and equalized taxation; and we denounce as fraught with danger and disaster the threat of our Republican adversaries to re-establish a protective tariff and to renege a policy of unequal taxation, which in connection with general misgovernment by the Republican party culminated in the business panic of 1893.

SECOND.—The Democratic party, which has always stood for the separation of church and state, for the sake alike of civil and religious freedom, does not hesitate to condemn all efforts to create a distinction among citizens because of differences in faith as repugnant to an enlightened age and abhorrent to the instincts of American freedom.

THIRD.—We reaffirm without qualification the principles and policies declared by the National Democratic Platform of 1892, and declare that our present National Democratic Administration is entitled to the thanks of the party for its honest, courageous and statesmanlike management of public affairs, and we express our undiminished confidence in the Democracy and patriotism of President Grover Cleveland and his distinguished co-adviser and Secretary John M. Campbell, Kentucky.

FOURTH.—When the Democratic party came into power in 1867 the bonded indebtedness of Kentucky was over $4,000,000. The nominal value of the assets of the sinking fund was about $8,000,000, made up in part of internal improvements that cost over and were carried at a valuation of $4,800,000, but which yielded at that time no net revenue, and were worth in cash only about $500,000, thus showing an actual deficit in the sinking fund as compared with our bonded indebtedness of about $400,000. Since 1867 the bonded indebtedness has been reduced to $650,000, and the available assets of the sinking fund more than equal the bonded indebtedness.

We have increased the annual appropriation for support of our charitable institutions from $250,000 in 1867 to $800,000 in 1895, and while improving our judicial system by increasing the number of courts and the frequency of their terms we have been compelled to increase our expenditures, one of the greatest items of which is the cost of criminal prosecutions, and a not ceasing fact in connection with which is that the increase is greatest in districts controlled by Republican officials. We have nevertheless been able to decrease the current rate of taxation for general revenue purposes from twenty cents on the one hundred dollars of taxable property in 1867 to fifteen cents in 1895. The Democratic majority have voluntarily increased the annual expenditures for the support of common schools from $250,000 in 1867 to about $2,000,000 in 1895, and by wisely providing separate schools for the two races are today giving to the children of the colored race opportunities for education they nowhere else enjoy.

In the face of unexampled difficulties the Democratic party has succeeded in wisely withdrawing convict labor from competition with free labor and in abolishing the practice inherited from the Republican party of leasing the convicts to parties interested solely in making profit out of the labor and in adopting the modern and improved methods by which the state and its officers are made directly responsible for the management of our state prisons and under which our penitentiary system has been and is being greatly improved.

During the twenty-eight years the people have intrusted the Democratic party with the control of the state government its administration has been characterized by the strictest economy and integrity, and in this regard we invite comparison with any Republican state government.

FIFTH.—We express our confidence in the wisdom and honesty with which the present state administration has conducted the affairs of our state government.

PORTSMOUTH, OHIO.

Count Day at Mt. Sterling.
There was about 1550 cattle on the market. The quality was about as good as usual and the sales were brisk at the prices.

Buyers of heavy feeders did not seem as anxious to invest as were buyers of lighter cattle. This and adjoining counties are at this time getting a little dry, and farmers are not in as good spirits as they were a month ago. The best feeders brought 3 1/2¢, but very few sold at that figure, the bulk selling at from 3 to 3 1/2¢. Yearlings sold according to quality at 3 1/2 to 3 3/4¢. Cows and heifers sold at from $2 to $3.00, but the latter figure was seldom reached, and they were extra that brought 2 1/2¢. Our mountain friends must remember that it takes the best class of stock to bring top figures.

At Fitzpatrick's yards we noticed the following stockmen with cattle: From Morgan county—Sal-yers & Co., 57 cattle; Cannon & Little, 30; Holiday, 35; Couch & Downing, 60; J. W. Perry, 40; Stafford & Co., 67; Walters & Stamper, 27; E. P. Lewis, 2 yoke of cattle.

Wolfe county—W. T. Swango, 141; J. M. Rose, 74; A. J. Hol-lon, 35.—Advocate.

Red River School, District 24.

On examination of pupils for the month of August, the general average reached in the different grades are as follows:

GRADE 5.—Eddie B. Jones, 96.5-6; Woodson Little, 96 1/2; Sam H. Nickell, 96 1/2; Buford Nickell, 96; Carrie Amyx, 94 1/2; Eva Tipton, 92 1/2; Maud Wilson, 91 1/2; Logan Wilson, 90; Matthew Amyx, 90 1/2.

GRADE 4.—Clara Nickell, 95; J. Tom Jones, 96; Marion Nickell, 94 1/2; George Amyx, 91; Lizzie Nickell, 87; Sam Amyx, 85.

GRADE 3.—Fannie Easterling, 90; Robert Tipton, 90; Jennie Amyx, 88.

GRADE 2.—Cora Wilson, 92; Effie Easterling, 92.

In behalf of those whose names have been omitted, I must say that within ten years of experience in different localities, I have never seen a more intelligent or brighter assemblage of children than they who gathered at the Red River school house, every one seeming imbued with the desire to excel and to achieve greater knowledge by tireless exertion, and so by a plain and pleasant presentation of facts and illustrations, the usually dull routine of school duties seem to them a pleasure rather than a bore.

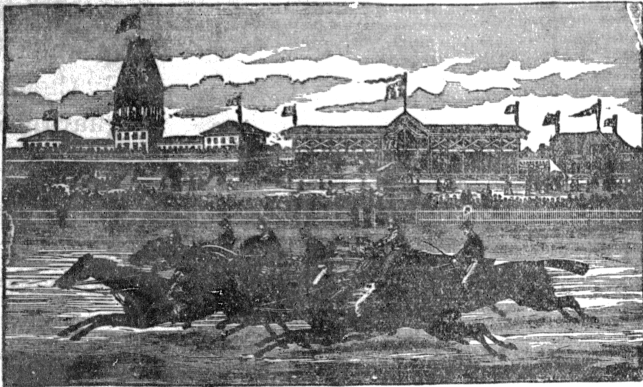

ALICE AMYX, Teacher.

Never did cider find such a ready sale as it did last Monday at Mt. Sterling. Two men from Caney, Morgan county, Oliver Prater and Charles Frisby, came in with a barrel of stuff which they claimed to be the pure and unadulterated juice of the apple, and set up business on one of the principal streets of the city. It don't take a Mt. Sterling crowd long to get on to a good thing—especially if there is drinks in it—and it wasn't long until Messrs. Prater and Frisby had a regular "Oklahoma rush" of business. The crowd attracted Deputy U. S. Marshal Pat Punch, who, it is said, can smell a moonshine distillery two miles away, and he swooped down on the outfit and landed the enterprising proprietors in jail. The cider (?) was a fair article of that nectar of the gods, brewed when the harvest moon is at the full.

Too Bad, Isn't It?

Two good Democrats were whittling on a dry goods box yesterday, when one expressed his belief that the Republicans would carry the state this fall. "Yes," said the other, "the world is getting wicked and wicked all the time. If the Republicans do carry the state I want my Heavenly Master to call me up at once."

SHANON.

"Incurable."
We know that it sounds queer to talk about the Electropoise curing incurable diseases, but bear in mind the fact that it is the old treatment that has pronounced the case incurable. We do not make the claim that we can cure incurable diseases, but we do warrant with all earnestness that a case pronounced incurable by your family physician is a splendid field for the operation of the Electropoise. It may be the treatment necessary, and is so likely to be so. If it fails, this is no argument against the "Poise," but in such a case, the fact of the physician's statement is proven to be true. But more the patient who has been given up by his physician who has again received relief through treatment of the Electropoise.

John Johnson, the negro ex-convict at Mt. Sterling last Friday, complained, just before the trial, was sprung, that he was "getting warm," and told the sheriff to "hurry up and let's get through with this business." No doubt "his Satanic majesty" had just thrown a few shovels of coal into the furnace that he was preparing for Johnnie, and his close proximity to his final destination caused him to feel its intense heat.

Mr. C. G. Strohm, principal of the public schools at Anderson, Cal., says: "I have used Chamberlain's Pain Balm and have found it an excellent remedy for lameness and slight wounds."

Lameness usually results from a sprain, or other injury, or from rheumatism, for which Chamberlain's Pain Balm is especially intended and unequalled. It affords almost immediate relief and in a short time effects a permanent cure. For sale by John M. Rose.

Many a man goes to the pit for good because he digs a pit for somebody else, and then falls into it himself.

Better From Toliver.

TOLIVER, KY., August 19, 1895.
Rev. J. W. Doane, of Campton, has recently closed a revival meeting in our neighborhood, and organized a Congregational church of more than twenty members. Rev. Doane has led several of our people to Christ, and we pray that the good work may go on. A building committee will soon be appointed for the erection of a church, and all friends who are interested in our neighborhood are invited to lend us a helping hand.
